

CIVILBUZZ

8 tallest Building In the World

Introduction about the skyscrapers

Pranav Padmane

8 Tallest Building In The world

8. Pyramid

There are many pyramids discovered in Egypt but the great pyramid of Giza has maximum height as compared to others which is approx. 300m. These pyramids are constructed with reference to the sunlight because the people consider sun as a God at that time.

7. Eiffel Tower:

Eiffel tower which is situated at Paris, France has height 324m from the ground. The Eiffel tower was only constructed to show that iron is stronger than other construction material. The tower has 3 floors where, restaurant for visitors on the first and second floor and observatory on the third floor.

6. Empire State Building :

Empire state building is the iconic building in New York which is seen in more than 90 Hollywood movies and has height 381m up to the roof and height including antenna is 443m high. It has observatory at 87th and 102th floor.

8 Tallest Building In The world

5. World Trade Centre:

It is situated at the new York, united states of America which is destroyed by al-queda in 2001. There are 7 world trade centre in which first and second tower has largest height of 541m including antenna.

4. Petronas Tower:

The patrons tower is also known as the PETRONAS twin tower is situated in Kuala-lumpur , Malaysia. Its construction is started at 1994 and completed in the 1999. This tower is designed by American architect CESAR PELLI. The tower is 481m high. A sky bridge two stories tall links to two towers between the 41st and 42nd stories. Its height is 452m.

3. Taipei 101:

The Taipei 101 is amazing building situated n Taiwan. The tower consists of 101 stories and its construction is started at 1999 and completed in 2004 with total cost. The construction cost of Taipei 101 is 1.7 billion. Its height is 509m.

8 Tallest Building In The world

2. CN tower:

The CN tower is a 553.33m high concrete communication and observation tower in downtown Toronto, Canada. The idea of the CN tower originated in 1968 when the Canadian national Railway wanted to build a large TV and radio communication platform to serve the Toronto area as well as demonstrate the strength of Canadian industry

1. Burj Khalifa :

The Burj khalifa is currently a tallest building in the world having height 830 m and 163 stories. It is design by architect Adrian Smith. The developer of burj khalifa emaar constructions and contractor is Samsung c&t corporation.